

Preventing Surgical Site Infection

% of Hip and Knee replacement patients receiving antibiotic within target time

We continue to report near-perfect compliance with this important best practice for preventing surgical site infections.